Definitions & Standards in Bid Sheet Term

Kohl's Owned Fields
Bid Sheet Term	Definition
Offer Style Group	Equivalent to a line plan slot and is used to group all development options together. A style group will contain ALL applicable development for a single line plan slot. There may be overdevelopment in a style group which will be denoted in the Program Option & Suffix Option Columns (see definitions below). >To understand Total Units for a Style Group, add up all "A-1" Seasonal Style Suffix Units within a style group. (the same is true for B1, C1, etc)
Style Number	Unique smart style ID base
Dev Choice Style #	Gives complete style number information that will be used to find styles in onePLM
Style Description	Description of style; this is pre-populated in the bid sheet
Program Option	Program Option represents the priority list of overdevelopment within a Style Group. The top priority styles are indicated with "A" while backup styles should be indicated with subsequent letters (B, C, D, etc.). Ultimately, only one of the options will be bought (Option A, or B, or C, etc). > To understand Total Units for a Style Group, add up all "A-1" Seasonal Style Suffix Units within a style group. (the same is true for B1, C1, etc) > The sum of A1 represents the TOTAL units for the style group. A1/B1/C1 should NOT be added together. > If not all options are visible, for example, there is no option "A" - This is because option A is owned by another vendor. However, you still have the ability to win the slot by submitting best costing for all other development options.
Suffix Option	Suffix option represents priority & backup suffixes within a style. Typically, suffix options are used to denote fabric options. Each suffix should be indicated "1" or "2". Ultimately, only one of the options will be bought (Option 1 or 2). > To understand Total Units for a Style Group, add up all "A-1s" Seasonal Style Suffix Units within a style group. (the same is true for B1, C1, etc) > The sum of A1 represents the TOTAL units for the style group. A1/B1/C1 should NOT be added together. >We ask that a vendor costs ALL Suffixes within a style group to be considered for a program.
